

How to change when everything is changing

Learn the Art & Science of Change

Innovation for the COVID-Era & Beyond

Change is not only a constant, it's everywhere. Even staying put means change just to stay ahead of everything.

Learn the fundamental building blocks of innovation or change-making, by design in this one-hour webinar and launch of the Cense Academy, a new platform for learning the art and science of change.

Registration is required, the cost is free. Join us for something that will give you a way to see, shape, and deliver change for yourself, your organization, and community.
